

Oregon Charters

One hundred forty-one Oregon charter schools were awarded grants from money that came from the federal charter schools program between 2006-2014. Forty did not open and 17 opened and closed. Those 57 charter schools represent 40% of all schools that received CSP grants.

All findings were confirmed by checking the Current Oregon Public Charter Schools List provided by the Oregon Department of Education which you can download here. The status of schools not listed were confirmed by searching the NCES number of the school here and then searching the internet for confirmation.

In total, $7,906,590 was awarded to Oregon charter schools during those years that either never opened or shut down.

The chart below shows the names of charter schools in Oregon that received federal money between 2006-2014 but are not open today. Lightly shaded names never opened and names shaded maroon opened but have closed. The federal grant amount is to the right of the school's name.
